MAIN PROJECT · FOUNDER · SINCE MAY 2025

AMPLIFY LIVE

Amplify Live is a non-profit association in Aarhus that gives emerging artists an intimate stage, professional live video and a way into the music industry.

I started the project in May 2025 and lead it today. It runs entirely on foundation grants. Building it has taught me how the music industry works from the inside, and what it takes to keep a volunteer-driven community going.

Artists include ANBEROSE · SOPHUS · CHÆK · MONSUN · Lygtevenner

WHAT ARTISTS GET
	An intimate stage Close-up concerts in Aarhus venues, for an audience that came to listen.	Professional live video Filmed sets they can use to pitch to venues, festivals and labels.	Guidance & network Mentoring and contact with people already working in the industry.
Founding & governance Registered the association and set up its banking and admin.	Fundraising Write foundation applications and manage the grant budgets, our only income.	Artist relations Scout and book emerging artists and stay their contact from first message to soundcheck.	Team leadership Lead the team behind each concert and share out the roles.
Production & venue design Shape the room, the look and the run of show for every event.	Video & communication Plan the filmed sets and write bilingual posts in a shared tone of voice.	Partnerships E.g. an upcycled merch workshop with Pop Up Lop, made from the audience's unworn clothes.	Law & permits Handle the rules for events, venues and a grant-funded association.

Selected projects

Festival work, placements and research from my time at Kaospilot.

PROGRAMME LEAD · KULTURMØDET 2026 — 8 MONTHS

Ung Kult Camp 2026

I was responsible for part of the youth programme at Kulturmødet, the national culture festival on Mors. I found and hired the acts, handled their contracts and needs, built the physical festival space and ran the schedule and stages during the festival.

Skills: booking, contracts, site build, festival operations

RESEARCH PLACEMENT — 4 MONTHS

Permakultur Danmark

I studied permaculture and worked out how its principles translate into leadership, so organisations can be built with a regenerative mindset instead of an extractive one.

Skills: research, regenerative leadership, organisational development

INTERNSHIP · 3 MONTHS

Girls Got Game

I built an organising tool in Notion that gives members and owners one digital platform for the community, and helped sharpen the project's vision, mission and goals.

Skills: digital community, Notion systems, strategy

SYSTEMIC PROJECT · 3 MONTHS

Rizoma

I mapped the internal systems of an association and looked at how the stories people tell inside it shape the way they work together.

Skills: systems mapping, narratives, organisational culture

ABOUT ME

What shaped how I work

I've moved around a lot, so I've learned to build home through communities. That's still what drives me: creating places people want to show up for, and understanding the systems that keep them alive.

Community is the infrastructure

People stay for the people. So I design for belonging first and build the programme around it.

LEARNED AT EFTERSKOLE AND RAMPEN

Look behind the surface

Problems usually sit in the structure: the flows, the money, the stories an organisation tells itself.

LEARNED THROUGH UX AND SYSTEMIC WORK

Lead from the floor

Running a kitchen taught me to stay calm under pressure, own mistakes and lead by doing the work too.

LEARNED IN CAFÉS AND AS KITCHEN MANAGER

Learn by doing

I learn fastest with real stakes, so I take on responsibility early and reflect as I go.

LEARNED AT KAOSPILOT
